VIII. Unfinished Business: None

IX. New Business:

Motion 2018-04-01: Under normal circumstances, changes to a student's program of study—including change of major or minor—are made by the student or his/her advisor only. The Faculty Senate recommends that if under extraordinary circumstances, the registrar must make changes in a student's program of study, the registrar should be required to inform the student's advisor of the changes immediately.

Rationale: Currently, students can make changes in their programs of study in consultation with their advisors. In addition, though, a faculty member who is not the advisor of a given student can also make changes in that student's program of study through Campus Connect.

Registrar Shamus Moore states that he regularly makes changes in students' programs of study—including change of major or minor—in response to requests from faculty members who are not the advisors of the students in question. When Mr. Moore does this, he does not contact the student and/or the student's advisor.

This situation presents a variety of problems. First, students who are already unfamiliar with the university system can be further confused when presented with changes that they do not request and do not want. Second, this practice can produce unreliable data regarding the number of students in each major or minor. Third, and perhaps most important, this practice undermines the vital confidence that advisors need to establish with their advisees.

Discussion – Alternative wording was suggested that clarified the role of the student and the faculty advisor.

Motion 2018-04-01 – Unanimous voice vote to not accept – Motion denied

Motion 2018-04-02 – Motion to send this over to the Policy Committee – Motion approved by unanimous vote

- X. Adjournment: 3:10 PM
- XI. Next Meeting: Wednesday, May 2nd at 4:00 pm

Respectfully submitted,

Jerry Dunn, Faculty Senate President
Krista Brooks, Faculty Senate Secretary
